

Vietnam passed a law requiring those riding motorbikes to wear helmets. To what extent do you believe this was a good idea?

In Vietnam, the Helmet law has been released for a years. Although wearing helmet actually helps to reduce the number of people who were died by accidents, there are some people think that the government should allow the citizens drive motorbike without wearing helmet. In my view, the advantage of helmet is much more than disadvantages.

Traffic accident has been a significant issue of Vietnam for many years ago. The number of people died in accident was increased dramatically in the past. Most of the accident was caused by not wearing helmet. As a result, the authorities have to think about a solution to help to reduce this number and then the Helmet Law has created. According to the Helmet Lam, all of the Moto-drivers must wear helmet when they are in the streets, otherwise they will be fined a large of money or the police officer will take their driving license. Consequently, the number went up considerably. Nevertheless, the good result from helmet might not mean to some people, they think the government should stop applying the helmet law and allow the driver travelling without helmet.

In fact, there is no doubt that the benefit of wearing helmet is helping Vietnamese driver avoid accident damage but there are some disagreements about wearing helmet. According to the survey, there are some reasons which people dislike wearing helmet. At first, fashionable, some teenagers who strongly disagree with wearing helmet because they think it makes them did not look beautiful when they were using it. Moreover, they do not want to put the helmet on their head because it destroys their hairstyles. Secondly, this reason might be right, but in some other aspects it does not make too much sense. Some Vietnamese think speed of vehicles in Vietnams is not too fast and necessary to wear helmet and in city areas especially.

In conclusion, wearing the helmet is a essential acts and its good for people who usually driving motorbike on the streets because it help to protect their life when they have accident. Personally, I strongly agree with the helmet law because i have heard many different experience from my friends who was saved by the helmet.
