

Television has had a significant influence on the culture of many societies. To what extent would you say that television has positively or negatively affected the cultural development of your society?

Nowadays, people watch television everyday like their daily routine and television has had a expressive impact on the culture of many societies. In my opinion, it would strongly influence on cultural development in both aspects positive and negative. In this essay, I will describe these.

First of all, television is the good way to bring information about cultural of the country to everybody, locally and globally. It has many channels present customs and habits of region so people can watch and know more about how people live in. Many festivals which are aired will be the communication means for introducing our culture to the world. Moreover, it helps to develop the travel industry which is potential.

Secondly, people can find a lot of interesting programs about different tradition all over the world. Watching television also help audiences have a better knowledge about other regions and countries. It shows daily routine, the traditional food, clothes trend and this country famous for. It is very important for tourist, oversea students and worker with the aim of adjusting and success when they go abroad.

On the other hand, there are too many topics about international culture also cause the side effect on the local lifestyle. Particularly, some young people tend to like other culture more than their own and become less respect traditional qualities.

In conclusion, channels and programs in television give people many great things to help everybody understand their own culture and others. Besides, we need to learn reasonably, apply these in right way and don't forget to conserve ours because culture is one of the way describe who we are

Revised

Nowadays, people watch television everyday like as part of their daily routine and television has had an expressive impact on the culture of many societies. In my opinion, it would strongly influences on cultural development in both aspects that are both positive and negative. In this essay, I will describe these.

First of all, television is the a good way to bring information about the cultural life of the country to everybody, locally and globally. It has many channels that present the customs and habits of a region so people can watch and know more about how people live. in. Many festivals which are aired will be are the communication means for introducing our culture to the world. Moreover, it helps to develop the travel industry which iss has potential.

Secondly, people can find a lot of interesting programs about different traditions all over the world. Watching television also helps audiences have a better knowledge about other regions and countries. It shows the daily routines, the traditional food, clothes trends and that this country is famous for. It is very important for tourist, oversea students and worker with the aim of adjusting and-for success when they go abroad.

On the other hand, there are too many topics about international culture that also cause the side effects on the local lifestyle. Particularly, some young people tend to like other culture more than their own and become less respectful of traditional qualities.

In conclusion, channels and programs in television give people many great things to help everybody understand their own culture and others. Besides, we need to learn reasonably, apply these in the right way and don't-not forget to conserve ours because culture is one of the way we describe who we are.

Good length at 270 words. Organization very good. You could use a few more special vocabulary terms. Also, careful to continue with present tenses - present simple or present perfect - if you start with a word like Nowadays... Good job